DEATHBODY

Icicles of a medial at unease
Please just pull me together and repair me
Old thoughts floating above a new horizon
Something I'll never doubt; I know I'm rotten

Breaking, snapping fingers
Cracking visions
Right behind my 700th eye
"Are you alright?"
Frigid, interlocking
Wooden men are watching
Filling me with polar fear
As it appears

All this time, I've felt like my time to go would arrive
That it can't last forever; I've been decaying
Moldy scaffolding, ritual strangling
No matter what I try, I seem to stay alive

My body should be cold
The eyes of maggots
Gazing through to my soul
I left so long ago
Behind me are the
Tears I couldn't control

Now with nowhere to go
I closed my eyes and fell in the snow
Lay me down to sleep
I pray the Lord my soul to keep

Heaven's melancholy
Higher voices calling
Through my 700th eye
But I'm alright
Frostbite doesn't hurt me
Aptly negating my mortality
It's hard, but I'm alright

All this time, I've waited
My death was recreated
So this would last forever
Accepting agony
Cruel indifference, lonely sufferance
Returning to a time when I was still alive

All this time, I've felt like my time to go would arrive
That it can't last forever; I've been decaying
God's deliverance, bygone innocence
These credences I've always feared were never even real

My body decomposed
The eyes of maggots
Gazing through to my soul
Cotard and I alone
In a paranoid and
Barren funeral home

The eyes of maggots
Gazing through to my soul
In a paranoid and
